CUBAN STRIKE ADDS TROUBLE FOR CESPEDES

DOCK WORKERS ASK RECOGNITION FOR THEIR UNION

BY J. P. McKNIGHT
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Havana, Aug. 19 (AP)—The strike of dock workers in Havana harbor, stubbornly resisting mediation efforts, suddenly broke into violence today and added another grave problem to those already facing Carlos Manuel de Cespedes's provisional government.

Strikers insisting that shipping agencies must recognize their unions, as Cuban law provides, attacked strike-breakers on the United Fruit company's docks, killed Angel Zomoorza and severely wounded his brother.

The office of Raphael Doniphan, American vice-president of the Havana Harbor Association, was raided, presumably by strikers.

Spokesmen for the stevedores, longshoremen and other affiliated unions have charged the United Fruit company and Doniphan are the only ones standing in the way of settlement of the strike, claiming all other shipping companies are willing to recognize the unions.

A goverment commission consisting of the secretaries of agriculture, interior and treasury today continued its efforts to bring the strike to a conclusion. Treasury Secretary Martinez Saenz said the government would enforce the labor law to compel recognition of the unions and end the strike unless arbitration proved successful.

To Prosecute Guilty

Destruction of the home of former Lieutenant Lino Lomo of the police at Cienfuegos today caused revolutionary leaders to express fear that hatred of former President Machado was being made the excuse for personal acts of revenge. The ABC society, spearhead of the revolution, protested against the mob's action in Cienfuegos.

In Santiago, where communistic agitation against the de Cespedes government has w cal authorities, the situation was reported quiet. Spokesmen at largely attended meetings have urged recognition of the communist party and complete equality for whites and negroes. Rumors that negroes in Oriente and Camaguey provinces were up in arms proved false.

Only once before has the racial question arisen in Cuba, where equality is well nigh taken for granted. In 1912 negroes in Oriente revolted after attempts had been made to divide political parties on the color line.

The popular clamor for punishment of all persons guilty of crimes under the Machado administration continued. To it had been added the official voices of President de Cespedes, Secretary of the Interior Laredo Bru and the army general staff, all of whom said those guilty shall not escape.

In Cabana fortress 16 officers and an undetermined number of enlisted men awaited investigation of their army records under Machado, while at Principe prison were some half hundred alleged "Porristas," members of the Machado strong arm squad, and former Secretary of the Inte-

NRA, Faced With First Great Test of Power, Comes Through on Top

BY BYRON PRICE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Days and nights of nerve-twisting trial, crowded by partial victory, have written an engrossing story this week into the annals of the government's war on depression.

To history it will be the week when the N. R. A., the very heart of the Roosevelt recovery policies, faced militantly its first great test of authority; when the farm relief venture was pressed boldly into a dozen new fields to halt the fall of prices; when speed and more speed was asked everywhere to put men back to work and place spending money in the pockets of the people.

Six Crowded Days

It will be the week when the tap of the giant public works reservoir was turned suddenly to the tune of three score millions; when inflation was talked of seriously but inconclusively in high places as a balm to hesitating markets.

President Roosevelt, back for six over-crowded days from his Hyde Park vacation, gave the troubles of the N. R. A. first place on the presidential calendar.

While some officials talked in whispers of a "crisis," and hundreds of little fellaws in business waited to see what would happen to the big fellows, the president told the great steel, coal, oil and automobile industries they were taking entirely too long in getting under the Blue Eagle.

If those who heard him are to be trusted, he spoke even more bluntly than had his N. R. A. administrator, Hugh S. Johnson. He did get some action, and where it was lacking, he took steps to supply it himself.

These industries were beset mainly by labor complications, although in oil the great difficulty was that some producers wanted one kind of production and price control and some another, or none at all. In coal the old conflict between the union and non-union fields blocked labor clause agreements. Automobiles were debating wage scales, and steel, traditionally open-shop, resented the manner in which it was to be required to recognize collective bargaining.

Overstrained nerves cracked once in an incident which probably will be long remembered as symbolical of an era. Steel captains walked out of a conference when William Green, head of the Federation of Labor, walked in.

"A challenge to the government," Green called it.

Oil, unable to agree, has been asked to take a code drafted by the government itself. Already, there are murmurs of dissent. Coal may have to follow suit, unless it acts soon. Steel has made progress, and Johnson is hopeful. Automobiles have their greatest controversies still before them. Next week will see much action.

To increase agricultural purchasing power to keep pace with the whirling campaign of the N. R. A., Secretary Wallace and his farm administration have had their busiest week. They announced a $35,000,000 program to reduce surplus hog population by 5,000,000, the meat to go to relief of the needy. They promised a loan of $30,000,000 to bolster butter prices, drafted a processing tax for hogs, and projected a new cotton control plan for 1934.

For good measure, they threw down the gauntlet to other wheat producing nations by threatening to subsidize wheat exports unless there is an agreement to reduce world acreage. The London wheat conference will find this notification on the table when it reassembles in London next Monday,—one more evidence that the United States is prepared to go it alone unless it can get reasonable cooperation abroad.

All of this bustle around the N. R. A., the farm administration, and elsewhere in Washington is directed toward two objectives,—to get the unemployed good-paying jobs, and to get prices up.

MISSOURI JOINS 21 FOR REPEAL

Early Returns Indicate Wet Victory of More Than 3 to 1

(BULLETIN

St. Louis, Aug. 19 (AP)—Unofficial incomplete returns from 3,053 out of 4,108 precincts gave: For repeal 459,381; against 110,995. The City of St. Louis, complete, cast 172,565 for repeal and 8,201 against. Jackson county, (Kansas City) on the basis of returns from 474 out of 544 precincts, voted 123,418 for repeal to 13,185 against.

St. Louis, Aug. 19. (AP)—A mounting wave of wet votes from rural sections and cities, tonight added Missouri to the 21 states clustered under the banner of prohibition repeal.

As unofficial and incomplete returns flowed in from nearly half of the precincts in the state, the preponderance of wet votes indicated the "show me" state had cast a vote of more than 3 to 1 for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Returns from 1,810 of the 4,126 precincts showed: For repeal, 265,550; Against repeal, 79,723.

Sweeping strength of the repeal vote was evident when incomplete returns indicated only 21 of the 115 counties in the state had given dry majorities. These were rural counties, always considered extremely arid in any test of wet and dry strength. Many other counties hitherto classed as rigidly dry, swung into the wet column tonight.

Railroad Builder Called By Death

Oshkosh, Wis. (AP)—Charles H. Hartley, 73, railroad builder and long a railroad operator in Wisconsin, died of a heart attack Thursday night at the home of his son, Ralph.

For many years Hartley was a division superintendent of the Chicago and North Western railroad, with headquarters at Ashland and Kaukauna. Then he came to Oshkosh and was engaged here as general manager of the Wisconsin and Northern. Later he went to Florida, making his home at Naples, where he built a railroad which was sold to the Seaboard Air Line.

For about ten years Hartley wintered in Florida and passed the summers here. He is survived by two sons, Ralph and Blair, of Hagerstown, Ind., and a daughter, Mrs. Carl Joys, Jr., of Milwaukee.

Petoskey, Mich., Aug. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Henry W. Fairbanks, of Chicago, and Mrs. A. R. Clark, of Cheboygan, Mich., were killed tonight when Mrs. Fairbanks drove her sedan into the side of a Pennsylvania railroad freight engine at a crossing in Bay View.

Both Mrs. Fairbanks and Mrs. Clark were 73 years old. Mrs. Fairbanks was the widow of a former director of music in the Chicago public schools.

PLANE BURSTS WHILE IN AIR

Ship Hit by Lightning; Buried Under Eight Feet of Water, Mud

Dover, Del., Aug. 19. (AP)—A red, cabin monoplane late today hurtled down from the skies near Leipsic, five miles west of here, and was buried under eight feet of water and mud in a marsh.

State troopers said the plane apparently was hit by lightning in mid-air. It immediately burst into flames and the engine exploded.

Neighbors and others, struggling in the mire to reach the debris and extricate the pilot, apparently the only person aboard, were driven back as high tide flooded the marsh. They abandoned the rescue work until tomorrow.

Investigation disclosed that a plane answering the description of the wrecked one, operated by Harold McMahon, of Oyster Bay, L. I., was missing.

McMahon had taken off in a plane owned by the Skylark company, on Long Island, early in the afternoon and landed safely at Atlantic City. At the airport there he took off again after a short rest, and said he was heading for Washington, D. C.

State troopers said the plane failed to appear at Washington, or any airport along the route from Atlantic City.

Charles Davis, a farmer near the marsh where the plane dropped, saw it hurtle down from the skies.

He said a storm was raging at the time. Davis told police he saw a flash of lightning, then heard an explosion and saw part of the plane break loose and everything shoot earthward.

Kissing Contest

Marathon Begins at Luna Park Monday, Rain or Shine; Rules Outlaw Onions and Biting; Advances to Judges Taboo

BY GARDNER BRIDGE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—And iadeez and gen'lmun, the big show is about to commence. The biggest spectacle of the year. A soul-lashing, artery-boiling contest of skill and endurance—a kissing marathon, and may the best couple win.

Coney Island speaking—step right up, the show is free.

In fact, Rex Billings, general manager of Luna park, looked decidedly hurt when he was asked how much it would cost to witness this spectacle, which is scheduled to go on, rain or shine, Monday afternoon.

"Why," he asked, soulfully, "commercialize love?"

So let's go-o-o-oooo.

Entries have been received from all over the country, especially Brooklyn and Long Island.

"The pair holding the longest kiss, as judged by official timers' watches," said Bert Nevins, contest watcher, will be declared the champion osculators of the world."

Mr. Nevins has formulated the following rules and regulations:

(1). Any contestant caught eating onions before the competition will be declared ineligible.

(2). Competitors will be allowed to close their eyes while registering kisses but both eyes must be closed at the same time. A foul will be claimed against any contestant peekiing through one eye while registering a kiss. However, kisses with both eyes open are permissible.

(3). Biting while kissing will be strictly prohibited.

(4). Any contestant noted making advances to the judges will be declared out of the contest.

(5) All sorts of kissing holds, such as the "Gable-Garbo clutch," will be permissable.

(6). All male contestants wearing moustaches must trim their upper lips before starting the alleged grind.

For the more temperamental contestants, sofas and artificial rumble seats will be provided to make them feel at home.

Lumber Code Has Minimum Hourly Wage

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—A fair practice code designed to put 115,000 more men on the payrolls of the lumber and timber products industry and including production control and minimum price provisions, was approved tonight by President Roosevelt.

A 40-hour maximum work week is established, 48-hours at seasonal peaks, and minimum wages range from 23 cents to 42½ cents an hour, representing in some instances a 100 per cent increase.

A clause which received President Roosevelt's special attention provides a program of conservation of forest resources in cooperation with the secretary of agriculture.

An agency known as the "Lumber Code Authority, Inc.," created to administer the agreement, is vested with the task of production control and cost protection.

The authority is to determine estimates of expected consumption, including exports, and is "empowered to establish and from time to time revise production quotas" for the various divisions. It says:

At its discretion, the authority is authorized to establish and from time to time revise minimum wages F. O. B. mill to protect the cost of production of items or classifications of lumber and timber products.

The code establishes these minimum rates of wages:

'BLOND TIGRESS' HELD AS KILLER

Mrs. Eleanor Jarman, 29, above, mother of two children, but known as the "blond tigress" and identified as leader of a gang credited with more than a score of robberies, is shown in court in Chicago as her trial for the murder of Gustave Hoch, a merchant, was ordered.

BANK ROBBERS GET LOOT, FLEE

One Captured at Grand Haven; Four Others Make Escape

Grand Haven, Mich., Aung. 19. (AP)—The search for four of the five bandits who robbed the Peoples Savings Bank here of $2,000 and escaped after wounding four persons, tonight extended into Chicago and Toledo. Authorities feared that a ruse employed by the bandits had permitted them to escape through the cordons of police and vigilantes flung across the state.

While posses of nearly a hundred men searched the vicinity of West Olive, in the belief that the bandits were afoot in that wild countryside, authorities now believe the fugitives actually were miles away, staging a highway robbery to replace their wrecked automobile, and speeding over U. S. road 127 either to Chicago or Toledo.

State police continued to patrol the highways in the southeast part of the state, but had little hope of uncovering further clues.

Prisoner Defiant

Meanwhile the fifth bandit, who said he was Harry Harris, of Chicago, was in such a serious condition from wounds he received folowing the robbery that officials were unable to question him for longer than a few moments at a time.

Harris adopted a defiant attitude, and declined to answer any questions about his companions in

BANKING PROBE WILL CONTINUE

Couzens' Charges Force Extension of Detroit Investigation

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—His 61st birthday only a matter of days, "Jim" Couzens — independent, blunt-speaking senior United States senator from Michigan—continues to wield his heavy broadsword of repartee as vigorously as ever.

His birthday will be next Saturday and he is "having the time of my life."

Testifying before the grand jury investigating bank closings here, after several charges had been made against him, the senator before half a day of testimony had passed became the accuser. Emphatically — without the fine feathers of oratory—he rapped out a series of charges against bankers, against the government, against a "wild orgy of speculation" which he said weakened the city's bank structure.

His testimony was made in what the officials of the investigating jury believed were the closing days of testimony. Now, they have stated, charges brought by the open-speaking senator probably will cause a continuation for several weeks, while bankers and officials he named are questioned as to his accusations.

"The public now doesn't know whom it can trust!" he announced, before a startled courtroom.

Likes a Good Fight

Relating step by step his "inside knowledge" of banking events, he swept the grand jury into further investigations. He presented names, offered facts, and told diminutive, energetic Prosecutor Harry S. Toy, his chief questioner, that he had found "gross lack of banking judgement" in Detroit. At the end of his second day of testimony, he brought a comment from the prosecutor that:

"This inquiry is by no means over."

"I hope not," barked the senthe holdup, police said. They

Sweetheart Killer Still Being Sought

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—Detectives continued tonight their search for James Ferris, to question him about the slaying in an east side drugstore last night of Miss Prudence Hart.

The girl, a telephone operator, was shot to death as she sat at a soda counter in the drugstore by a man whose description tallies with that of Ferris, a jilted suitor.

Miss Hart and the man entered the store together. Miss Hart went into a telephone booth and made a call while her companion tried to open the door. As she came out of the booth they quarreled for a few minutes and then shouting "so you told them did you?" The man pulled a pistol and shot her six times. He then fled, leaving the girl's automobile, in which they arrived at the store, parked a block away.

16-Year-Old Youth Accused Of Murder

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—A warwant charging 16-year-old Norman Billitzke, of Hamtramck, with the killing of Mrs. Rose Smutek, 45, was recommended by the prosecutor's office Saturday after a waiver had been obtained from the juvenile court. It is charged the boy beat the woman when she resisted his advances.

BIG BUSINESS FALLS IN LINE FOR RECOVERY

INDUSTRIES EMPLOY TWO THIRDS OF U. S. WORKERS

BY JAMES P. SELVAGE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—In a dramatic climax to his whirlwind week of activity, President Roosevelt tonight signed fair practice codes for the gigantic steel, oil and lumber industries before taking a late night train for his home at Hyde Park, New York.

Final approval of the documents brought the three pivotal industries under the N. R. A.'s Blue Eagle after weeks of bickering within the industries and between them and the administration which ended only after the chief executive's personal intervention.

With their signing, four of the nation's six key industries are under the wings of the Blue Eagle and almost two-thirds of the industrial workers of the country are covered in the recovery program of greater purchasing power and shorter working hours.

Roosevelt Signs Codes

President Roosevelt attached his signature to the oil and steel codes late tonight, only half an hour before his train left for New York. They were carried to him a few minutes earlier by Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, after 48 hours of almost continuous negotiation.

The weary industrial leader had almost run through the lobby on his way into the president's office with the two important documents, shouting breathlessly to newspapermen as he rushed by:

"I have the oil and steel codes."

As he emerged, Johnson only paused for a minute to say the codes were signed and rushed back to his office to explain to newspapermen what they were all about.

The lumber code had been signed earlier in the evening as President Roosevelt rushed ahead with his arrangements to return to Hyde Park.

The pressure of the administration, which has been directed against steel and oil during the last few days, was turned full upon coal during the day but K. M. Simpson, the deputy administrator, said there was no chance of an immediate agreement.

Over the week-end the attempt will go on to bring the widely conflicting factions of the industry together and Administrator Johnson expects to have an agreement ready for dispatch to President Roosevelt early next week.

The coal operators have been warned already by Johnson that unless they can come together upon a code the administration will write one for them, and the basic principles have been outlined.

While this same course was followed in the oil industry to end the weeks of controversy between operators who want stringent price-fixing and production control, Johnson said tonight that the code as finally promulgated would represent an agreement upon the

TEN KILLED IN AUTO CRASHES

Hit and Run Van Responsible for Deaths of Six Persons

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 19 (AP)—Death rode the highways in northern Indiana early today and the lives of ten persons were snuffed out near South Bend and Ft. Wayne. Fourteen others were injured, most of them seriously.

Shortly before dawn an improvised bus, carrying thirty passengers who were returning to their homes in Elkhart county after a visit to the Chicago fair, was sideswiped by a heavily-laden van six miles west of here. Tearing away the left side of the farm truck, the van dealt death to six and injuries to a dozen others. The van sped on, its driver refusing aid to the victims strewn along the road.

A few hours later, another party of six persons from Toledo, O., drove onto a Wabash railroad crossing in Fort Wayne in front of a passenger train. Four were killed and two others seriously hurt. They were enroute to Kentucky on a vacation trip.

The dead in the South Bend accident were:

Mrs. Walter Berkey, 23; Walter Berkey, 26; Mrs. Mary Huntsberger Wisler, 26; Wayne Pippenger, 16; Gerald Messmore, 17, and Kenneth Lechlitner, 16, all of Wakarusa, Elkhart county.

Those killed in the Fort Wayne wreck were:

James R. Gray, 39, of (1248 West Delaware Ave.) Toledo, O.; Mrs. Gray; Nettie Blanche Gray, 8, a daughter; and Mrs. Ella Thomas, age about 38, of Princeton, Ky. The injured are Izetta Gray, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gray, fractured skull and internal injuries; and Mabel Marie Gray, 4, another daughter.

Coroner B. J. Bolka of South Bend placed the blame in the accident here on the driver of the overland van.

The load of World's Fair visitors had left Chicago shortly before midnight. The farm truck had wooden benches on either side for the occupants. The passengers dozed as the vehicle proceeded homeward. Without warning the van flashed into view and bore down on the truck.

The only clew was a strip of heavy tire which was ripped from one of the wheels. Authorities in cities from South Bend to Chicago were notified to watch for the damaged van.

Home Loan Figures May Be $20,000,000

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 19 (AP)—George D. Schermerhorn, manager of the local office of the Home Owners Loan corporation, estimates that $20,000,000 will be loaned in the 12 counties comprising the district. Already requests for mortgage loans have been received totaling $2,340,000.

Suspected Shooter Of Two Arrested

Detroit, Aug. 19. (AP)—James Bell, 35, was held by police tonight, charged with the shooting of two men this afternoon. Police were told that Bell entered a beer garden operated by Paul Pearson, 29, and without apparent cause shot him in the neck.

An hour later, authorities said, Bell entered an apartment and shot Robert Shelly, 26, in the abdomen. He was accompanied by his wife, Louise, in both instances police said. After the second shooting Bell strolled about on a street near the apartment until taken into custody by police.

He is held on charges of assault with intent to kill. Mrs. Bell is held as a police witness. Both Pearson and Shelly are in a serious condition.

Five Rescued from Foundering Craft

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—Three men and two women, who refused to give their names, were rescued early Saturday from a sinking yacht in Lake St. Clair. They were picked up by a passing freighter and transferred later to the mail boat, G. F. Becker. They wer unable to explain the foundering of their craft.

BODY RECOVERED

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—The body of a man who leaped from the ferryboat La Salle into the Detroit river was recovered Saturday off Wyandotte. The body is believed to be that of Adelle Beaman, of Essex, Ont. Friends said he had been despondent.

AUTHOR FILLS FOREIGN POST

Meredith Nicholson Is Appointed Minister to Paraguay

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt today reached into the writing profession to fill two diplomatic posts, appointing Meredith Nicholson, Indiana author, to be minister to Paraguay and Leo R. Sack, Washington newspaperman, as minister to Costa Rica.

In addition, he was understood to have decided upon Fay Des Portes, South Carolina state senator, for minister to Bolivia. The La Paz government has been asked if he is acceptable.

These appointments, it was said authoritatively, completed the list of American diplomats to Latin America to aid President Roosevelt carry out his announced policy of the "good neighbor."

Nicholson, who began his career as a newspaper reporter, later turned to writing fiction and magazine articles. The "House of a Thousand Candles" is perhaps his best known book.

Dearing Keeps Job

Early in life he was closely associated with such literary figures as James Whitcomb Riley, General Lew Wallace and Edward Eggleston.

In addition to his writing, he has been an active worker for the Democratic party and frequently has been enlisted as a public speaker.

Sack has been correspondent here since 1919 for Scripps Howard newspapers. He is a native of Tupelo, Miss., and lists himself as an independent Democrat.

Des Portes is a cousin of Bernard Baruch, New York financier, who has been closely associated with President Roosevelt.

The administration is understood to have decided to keep Fred Dearing on as ambassador to Peru. This rounded out plans for all the six embassies in Latin America.

Polo Star Named In Attack Warrant

Chicago, Aug. 19 (AP)—Cecil Smith, of Llano, Tex., second ranking polo player in the United States, was arrested today on a criminal attack charge preferred by Miss Eugenia Rose, 23, a nurse.

The daring and hard-riding luminary of the west polo team which tomorrow meets the eastern quartet in the deciding game of the national tournament, was released on a cash bond of $2,500.

Miss Rose told Police Magistrate Willis R. Brightmere that Smith attacked her on a lonely country road last night.

Smith denied the accusation, branding it a "frame-up."

Miss Rose was accompanied to court by her fiance, Dr. Gary M. Baker, an optician. It was he, she said, who insisted upon her taking the action against Smith, despite her remonstrance at resultant notoriety.

Smith was arrestd in a fashionable North Shore inn while dining with Major Frederic McLaughlin, widely-known sportsman. He had earlier in the day played golf with McLaughlin and Silas Strawn, financier and attorney.

part of most of the industry.

Even after the large factions had agreed, hesitatingly, to cooperate should the code as written be approved by the president, Johnson was still bargaining for whole-hearted indorsement.

The other of the six large industries—automobiles—had its hearing yesterday and officials indicated that it would be pushed through the N. R. A. machinery as fast as possible.

Signing of the lumber code, which has been in the mill for weeks, reaches an industry that employes a million workers in normal times and has an annual output of $4,000,000,000.

President Roosevelt also tonight approved codes of fair competition for the photographic manufacturing and fishing tackle industries.

Nearing the end of the N. R. A.'s most spectacular week, Johnson drove ahead today bulkwarked by the break which brought steel within the scope of the recovery program.

COMPROMISE OFFER

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)A compromise offer eliminating reference to the open-shop from the automobile code was discussed today by representatives of the industry with a growing possibility that such a course would be followed.

As the plan took shape in informal conferences, the disputed section would still contain a statement that individual merit, regardless of union membership, would govern the hiring and promotion of workers.

Such an arrangement, the motor cars manufacturers felt, would be in conformity with the idea of Hugh S. Johnson, N. R. A. administrator, as outlined at the automobile hearings by Donald Richberg, counsel to the recovery organization. The disagreement centers upon the following paragraph in the code as submitted:

"Under the foregoing provision (the mandatory statement of the right of the workers to bargain collectively), the employers in the industry may continue the open shop policy under which the selection, retention, and advancement of employes will be on the basis of individual merit without regard to their affiliation or non-affiliation with any labor or other organization."

Under the compromise discussed today the two words "open shop" would be eliminated.

CODE FOR OIL

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Mighty oil, torn by weeks of conflict over price control, was brought fully into the recovery campaign in a trade code approved by President Roosevelt tonight just before he departed for Hyde Park, New York.

Days of controversy over the program, to become effective September 2, were smoothed out in the last few hours by Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administration, and the plan was accepted by the majority of the industry.

The code provides for strict federal regulation over oil production to hold it in line with demand, and for a modified form of price control, with a section giving President Roosevelt wide discretionary powers to fix maximum and minimum price levels if he wishes.

To cover the 1,100,000 employes—expected by officials to be increased by from 250,000 to 300,000—the code sets up a 40-hour week in marketing operations, except for filling station employes, and a like week for clerical employes in the drilling, producing, refining and pipe line divisions, whose other employes have a 36-hour week.

Pay rates range from 45 to 52 cents in the drilling and other producing sections, and from 40 to 47 cents for marketing.

Filling station employes, on a 48-hour basis, receive minimum pay of $12 to $15 weekly, according to the population of the city.

GRAIN ACREAGE CUTS PLANNED

Wheat Farmers Awaiting Action on Percentage of Reduction

BY ROY F. HENDRICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—The eyes of the nation's wheat farmers next week will center on a theater of operations extending from London to Portland, Oregon, as both international and domestic action is taken to improve their status.

Significant events scheduled for the next few days are to be climaxed on Thursday when Secretary Wallace will announce the percentage of acreage reduction to be required of American farmers in order to become eligible for benefit payments of up to $136,000,000.

Representatives of the chief wheat producing nations gathered at London for the reconvening of the world wheat conference Monday. Several important decisions affecting American wheat policy may be secured.

Representatives of farm administrators and the grain industry prepared for another meeting Monday at Portland to explore the possibilities of a trade agreement among exporters to move surplus wheat out of that region to the Orient with government support.

Meanwhile, in school houses, court rooms and country auditoriums throughout the four major wheat producing areas in the United States farmers were being brought together in meetings to develop arrangements for application of the voluntary domestic allotment plan to the grain.

Wallace and his aides said their minds are "open" on the decision as to the acreage reduction to be required up to a maximum of 20 per cent covering planting for harvest in 1934.

In event that an international agreement to reduce production is arrived at for the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina the administrators are willing to reduce American production more than if this country alone embarks upon a production curtailment program.

If there is no agreement, administrators are inclined to require a reduction of no more than 10 per cent for 1934 plantings; in case an international agreement results, some of them believe that this country could offer a reduction of 15 per cent.

Mahatma Weaker, Continues His Fast

Poona, India, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Mahatma Gandhi was weaker this evening as he began the fourth day of a threatened fast unto death. The anxiety of his friends was increasing.

There was no indication that Gandhi would accept the government's offer of restricted liberty while he is imprisoned in Yeroda jail. Gandhi began the fast because he was refused privileges he formerly enjoyed as a political prisoner to carry on his campaign in behalf of the "untouchables" class. The government then offered certain concessions.

Gandhi's secretary, Mahadev Desai, is caring for him. All other offers of help by friends outside the jail were refused.

Texas Will Vote Next On Repeal

Austin, Texas, Aug. 19 (AP)—Ratification of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and revision of the state constitution to allow the manufacture and sale of 3.2 beer come before the Texas electorate for decisions next Saturday.

Texas will be the twenty-third state to vote on the proposition of eliminating prohibition from the nation's fundamental law. Missouri voted today, with dry leaders conceding defeat and making plans to attack legality of the election.

The eighteenth amendment was ratified by the Texas legislature in March of 1918. State prohibition was voted at a special election in May, 1919, prohibitionists winning by 19,624 votes.

Flight To Chicago Planned For Graf

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 19 (AP)—A flight to Chicago is being contemplated for the Graf Zeppelin which started this evening on its fifth trip of the season to South America. Captain Ernest Lehmann was in command.

A Zeppelin works official said the proposed flight to the Chicago World Fair had been under discussion but that plans are "still indefinite," owing to Commander Hugo Eckener's absence.

Dr. Eckener, at present in Rio De Jareiro, will return on the Graf.

Eight passengers and a large amount of freight and mail were carried on the Zeppelin.

Havana, Aug. 19 (AP)—Brigadier A. B. Ainciart, Havana's last chief of police under President Gerardo Machado and held responsible by the opposition for many political slayings, shot and killed himself tonight when he was trapped by police and soldiers.

Sought since last Saturday when Machado fled the country, Ainciart was found hiding under a coal stove in a house in the Almendares section of Havana. When ordered to give himself up, Ainciart shot himself with a pistol he always carried.

Ainciart was all alone at the end—he who never appeared on the streets unless three or four guards rode with him and another automobile preceding or following shielded him from danger with machineguns, rifles and sawed-off shotguns.

FORD MAY SIGN OWN NRA CODE

Associates Hint Magnate Will Go Auto Pact "One Better"

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—Persons close to Henry Ford today advanced the prediction—although admitting it was largely conjecture—that the Detroit manufacturer will not sign the code of the automobile industry, but will wait until its final terms are made known and then will "go it one better."

At present the Ford schedule is a five-day, 40-hour week, with a minimum of 50 cents an hour. This schedule was adopted a fortnight ago, not long after the industry, exclusive of Ford, had agreed upon a maximum of 35 hours a week and a minimum of 40 to 43 cents an hour.

Ford has refrained from any open comment regarding the code tentatively agreed upon by his fellow manufacturers, but he is known to be bitterly opposed to it. Associates have represented him as holding that the national recovery act proposes to "hand industry over to labor union officials." He resents the idea they add that a "harmonious relation" between himself and his men should be "disturbed."

Others who have followed the Ford philosophy over a period of years, suggested today that in his present attitude regarding the automobile code he is but giving another manifestation of his "go it alone" policy. This policy had its inception in 1919 when Ford bought out all his early partners in the Ford Motor Co., and made it a purely family corporation.

He gave the philosophy its first real test in the bleak years for the automobile industry that came in 1921-22, when he refused Wall Street aid—on its own terms—and through drastic merchandising programs pulled his company out of the difficulties that beset all industry at that time.

Again in the banking crisis that developed in Detroit last February, Ford proposed to "go it alone" or not at all.

Crowder Runs Up His 20th Victory In Licking Browns

St. Louis, Aug. 19 (AP)—Al Crowder scored his twentieth victory of the season in defeating the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 3, here today to give the Washington Senators their eleventh consecutive triumph, but it wasn't Jack Burns' fault.

The big Brownie first baseman knocked two of Crowder's offerings into the stands for home runs, driving in all three runs for Roger Hornsby's team.

The Senators landed on Bump Hadley for four runs in the first inning, and then coasted to victory. Heinie Manush led the attack for the leaders, getting a triple in the first and a circuit drive in the seventh.

Score by innings:

Washington 400 000 100—5 10 0
St. Louis 010 000 020—3 6 1

GRAND RAPIDS GREETS LEGION

Former Service Men of Michigan in Annual Convention

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 19, (AP)—Thousands of former service men, members of the American Legion journeyed to Grand Rapids today for the opening of the annual state convention and found the campaign for department commandership already in full swing.

At convention hall where the sessions will be held, banners carry the names of Don L. Beardslee, of Greenville and Dr. Charles Gray of Petoskey, for the office of commander to succeed John W. Gilmore, of Detroit.

The election, however, is only one item of the activities, and controversial matters that will occupy the Legionaires. Resolutions on various matters affecting the Legion members will come on Tuesday, after National Commander Louis Johnson has reviewed the fight the national organization has made in behalf of the veterans, particularly in regard to the compensation allowances under the economy act passed at the last session of congress.

Commander Johnson also is understood to be bringing with him an outline of a program adopted by the Legion's national executive committee for the guidance of the Legion in future matters of national legislation. It is a four-point program, one clause of which seeks a very definite recognition of the contention that the disabled veteran, when without means of support, is a ward of the federal government and not the state or local government or private or public charity.

The convention is expected to go on record in support of President Roosevelt's recovery program and will choose from among Saginaw, Flint, Traverse City and Benton Harbor and St. Joseph as the meeting place for next year.

A memorial service Sunday for the World War dead will be held with the formal convening of the convention scheduled for immediately afterward. Governor Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, former national commander; United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, and Governor William A. Comstock in addition to Commander Johnson are among the speakers, who will be heard at the various sessions.

The program includes contests Sunday for the state drum and bugle corp championship as well as the business sessions of the auxiliary organizations—the 40 and 8 fun making organization, and the 8 and 40, the women's auxiliary.

ator. "I got the idea from the recent lengthy adjournment that it might be."

At times caustic in his criticism, at others broadly smiling, the senator for two days has entertained a capacity courtroom with his testimony. He and Prosecutor Toy have engaged in bristling tilts, but the senator always has emerged smiling.

"You like a good fight, and so do I," he told Toy at the conclusion of Friday's testimony.

Like an Arabian Nights tale, Senator Couzens' life took its course from a minor position in a coal yard to that of a multimillionaire in the course of a decade. The medium which carried him to wealth was the Ford Motor Co., of which he was one of the creators. He broke with Ford in 1915, over a disagreement in business policies. At that time the senator showed the independence that has marked his public career since.

He said:

"I am willing to work with a man, but not for him."

DEMAND IN IRON ORE CONTINUES

Escanaba Dock Repair Work Is Pushed to Completition

Repair work on C. & N. W. Ore dock No. 5 is proceeding steadily, with a crew averaging 125 men, and a portion of the dock will soon be ready for use. A crew of top dock workers was employed on No. 5 during the past week.

The steamer C. A. Reiss cleared from the docks with a cargo of ore Saturday, and the Ford arrived to take on a cargo of hopper ore for Cleveland. The steamer Walsh is due today to load with ore for Cleveland.

Last Tuesday it was announced that 69 ore freighters had been added to the Great Lakes fleet, making a total of 185 in operation, compared with 17 engaged in the ore trade a year ago. On June 15, there were 40 ore carriers in operation on the lakes and this was increased to 116 by July 15.

With less than three months remaining of the ore shipping season, mining areas regard the ore situation as highly encouraging. Mines in the district continue to ship steadily. At the Caspian mine, the shovel has completed the first cut through one stockpile and is burrowing in on the second cut. The same is true at the Buck mine. At the Hiawatha mine the shovel has completed one cut and is well through the second. At many of the other mines in the district one cut has been already completed and second cuts started.

Bishop Gives Church Views On Education

The views of the Catholic church on the problem of education are outlined in a letter sent recently to the clergy of the upper peninsula by Bishop Paul Nussbaum of Marquette.

Bishop Nussbaum addressed the following letter to the clergy and laity:

"The children of today are the men and women of tomorrow. Their proper education is all important. It is vital to them, to the nation, to the church. Parents, state and church have their sacred duties in this matter.

"Children are destined for heaven, not for earth. They must be taught to use their faculties, the earth and the things thereof in such a way as to enable them to reach heaven.

"Jesus opened heaven for humanity by His death upon the cross. He established His church to teach the way to heaven. She is essentially a teacher. She has preeminent right over education. While recognizing parental and state rights in the education of youth, she asserts her supremacy to correct parental and state errors in education. She fights every encroachment upon her rights to the supreme teaching office.

"This doctrine of the church's supremacy in the field of education as it promotes, impedes or destroys the chance of reaching heaven must be preached in season and out of season even though it invites persecution and arouses the ire of pseudo-scientists and pagan educators at what they consider a most arrogant claim.

"Since the seventeenth century when the heroic Jesuit Martyrs Isaac Jogues, John de Brebeuf, Rene Goupil, John LaLande and the intrepid Jesuit explorer, Jacques Marquette, passed through this territory the church has exercised her teaching office. When the saintly and scholarly Bishop Baraga in the first half of the nineteenth century came to stay in the upper peninsula, he built the parochial school beside the church to impart secular and religious knowledge to the redmen. He supported his schools by contributions from the French Lyons office of the Propagation of the Faith, the Austrian Leopoldine Society and the U. S. A. Indian agency. His diaries preserved here in the diocesan archives show these entries.

"The early Catholic white settlers in these parts built their schools to train their children in belles-letres, the arts and sciences and at the same time to teach them the way to heaven. You have followed their example and today have twenty-five parochial grade and high schools, academiew and college. Seven thousand of your children frequent these schools. Their tuition at the minimum rate of sixty dollars per child cost you $420,000 during the past school year.

"Despite the unprecedented economic depression of the past few years you have kept these schools open. But, with the increase in federal and state taxation, and the late sales tax on every morsel you eat garment you wear, every purchase you make, it becomes a question how long you can continue to support your schools.

"The state takes an annual census of all children of school age for the purpose of apportioning tax money to the public schools. The state pays the public school the per capita apportionment for the number of children who are attending your parochial schools. The public school in the district where there is a parochial school is taking money for wich it gives you absolutely no service. Here is an injustice which must arouse the indignation of all fair-minded people. Pastors should call the attention of the public to this most unethical procedure.

"I realize that the "new deal" has given you a ray of dope, and that your faith and your love for your children will lead you to make every sacrifice to provide a complete secular and religious education for your children, but, to take time by the fore-lock and to be prepared for such a calamity as the closing of even one parochial school, which would throw your children into the public school which may not teach religion, I am hereby directing all pastors to establish in their parishes and missions the "Confraternity of Christian Doctrine."

"Gather into the Confraternity intelligent young men and women and give them a course in popular apologetics. You will not be able to make these young people scientific theologians, but you will be able to equip them to correct misrepresentations of religion and to refute calumnies against the church made by ignorant and malicious bigots. You may also use these trained apologists to assist you to reach every child in your parishes and missions and especially the adolescent youth who, owing to the lack of the Catholic high school in your vicinity, is compelled to attend the public high school.

"I request pastors to apply to the public school officials in their districts for the official census of children of school age. Should they refuse, the Lansing state department will furnish it. Check all the Catholic children to assure yourselves that no child in your jurisdiction will be without religious instruction.

"To create a greater interest in the true principles of education, pastors will please make the late encyclical letter of Pope Pius XI on "The Christian Education of Youth" the topic of their Sunday sermons during the month of August. Copies of the Encyclical may be obtained from the National Catholic Welfare Conference Offices, 1312 Massachusetts avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. A brochure on the "Confraternity of Christian Doctrine" by the Rev. Raymond Prindiville, C. S. P., may be obtained from the American Ecclesiastical Review Office, Philadelphia.

"Pastors will please send to the chancery office on or before Sept. 30 the names and addresses of the young men and women they have selected for enrollment in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, and the number of Catholic children registered on the last official state school census in their district. May the Holy Spirit direct your zeal for the education of youth and inspire a large number of intelligent, active young men and women to cooperate in one of the great spiritual work of mercy, namely, to enlighten the uninstructed in the things that lead to heaven, especially the underprivileged children who are not in the parochial school."

AMUSEMENTS

"Hell Below," the sensational submarine adventure film, which caused widespread comment during its long run showing at the Astor Theatre in New York City, comes to the Delft Theatre today, giving local filmgoers a chance to view what is said to be the most thrilling marine spectacle ever to reach the talkies.

Robert Montgomery heads the cast of "Hell Below" in what critics concede to be the outstanding role of his career. As the young lieutenant who falls hopelessly in love with a woman already married, he is precipitated into a stirring series of occurrences in which he disobeys the orders of his submarine commander in an effort to save his friend adrift at sea and target for the guns of a squadron of airplanes, is dishonorably dismissed from the service after unwittingly causing the entire crew a narrow escape from a horrible death at the bottom of the ocean, and finally vindicates himself before both his commander and the woman he loves in a heroic gesture in which he forfeits his life.

Walter Huston, who recently contributed a memorable portrayal to the screen as the President in "Gabriel Over the White House," has another stirring role as the submarine commander, and the ace cast also includes such notable film names as Madge Evans, the world-famed Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette, and Robert Young.

TO OPEN 54 BANKS

ACCORDING to an announcement by R. E. Reichert, state banking commissioner, made at Lansing on Friday, plans are under way for the reopening of 54 banks of the state within the next week. All of the banks effected are located in cities of 10,000 population, or less, and have been closed for several months.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has already loaned some four million dollars to these banks and under a plan evolved by Mr. Reichert with officials at Washington an additional $2,800,000 is to be loaned to incorporated trusts that are to be established in connection with the closed banks. Such a plan will immediately make available to depositors at least 50 per cent of their deposits and thus serve not only as a decided business stimulant to cities in which banks are reopened, but will also prove most helpful in improving the morale of the people of those communities.

It is announcements such as this, coupled with definite signs of general business improvement, that is building a firmer faith in the future and bringing about a greater measure of cooperation on the part of all people in the nation-wide movement to move business back to normal status.

BEER HELPS REVENUES

REVENUES made available by federal beer taxes, increased the federal income for July by more than sixteen million dollars, according to an announcement from Washington on Friday. Receipts from beer taxes also made it possible for general government income to increase by seventy million dollars over the receipts from all sources for the same month of last year. Revenue tax collections by the government for the month of July fell off decidedly as compared with June, however, because of the large receipts paid to the government in income taxes in the previous month and very little of which dribbled in during July.

But from beer taxes alone July receipts were nearly three million dollars above the record for June increases were also shown over June in gasoline taxes, automobiles, tires, telephone and telegraph, radio and bank check taxes. Receipts in tobacco taxes, however, showed a falling off in July, as compared with June's record.

Under normal conditions such a showing would be regarded as highly favorable in bringing about a balanced budget for the federal government but in the present emergency, in spite of governmental economies, expenditures by the government are being made with such a lavish hand that even a monthly increase in revenue of seventy million dollars, does not hold the significance it once had for this nation.

TO CONTINUE CAMPS

CIVILIAN Conservation Camps, in which 314,000 young men of the nation are now enrolled, as one of the present administration's unemployment relief measures, are to be continued throughout the year. President Roosevelt has announced his determination to carry through the experiment for another six months period, to bring the total cost of this activity for the year up to a hundred and fifty million dollars.

President Roosevelt has announced that he will personally appeal to all of those now enrolled in these camps to make a serious effort to find jobs, in order that their places may be taken by others, gathered in the cities and still without employment.

It is announced that the greater portion of the camps now established in this and other areas, where severe winter weather conditions would hamper the program of work, will be moved to the south, where similar work will be carried out during the remainder of the period for which the men will be enlisted.

READY TO GO

THE appointment of Mortimer E. Cooley, former dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture of the University of Michigan, to be State engineer under the Federal Public Works Administration, puts the Public Works Advisory Board, headed by Frank H. Alfred, in a position to go ahead as rapidly as it wishes. Dean Cooley's eminent fitness for his post cannot be questioned, and under his supervision it is to be expected the Public Works construction jobs will be performed properly and promptly.

The difficult and vitally important part of the task confronting the Board and its engineer is to decide which projects to accept and which to reject. In this connection it is reassuring to find the Board Chairman saying he wants to spend money on "those things which are helpful to citizens of every Michigan community and which will work to their benefit, rather than to try and hang additional debts on them." It indicates that the men in charge of the program understand there is no free gift involved in the Federal offer, not even in the clause providing an outright grant of 30 per cent of the money to be spent. Federal taxes collected in the State will more than make up for that.

BACK IN BARWICK

LITTLE more than a fortnight ago the newspapers played up a story from Barwick, Ga., whence some 30 townsfolk, the majority of the younger adult population, set off in a truck to visit the Century of Progress, Niagara Falls and Washington. The town's watermelon crop had yielded thousands of dollars in profits, and the Barwickians proposed to spend some of the money seeing the world.

Now the travelers are home again having gone 3,100 miles at a cost of $26.71 per person in the party. They had two days at the "Fair" and two days at Niagara Falls, which was possibly a more impressive sight to citizens of dry, sandy Georgia. They went on to Washington to see the White House, the Capitol and the Washington Monument. Then they went home to Barwick, where the neighbors welcomed them with a fish fry—1,500 pounds of fried fish. There were 30 different versions of the Odyssey, to which visitors from adjoining towns listened with awe, interest and admiration. After the white folks had eaten their fill, the Negro farmers had their share of the fish fry, a spectacle which can be imagined by anyone in the North who saw "The Green Pastures."

There is a lesson for the rest of us in the directness and simplicity of this excursion. The Barwick pilgrims made no effort to keep up with the Joneses. They cut the cloth of their magic carpet to fit their pattern. They came home with money in their pockets and joy in their souls.

A NEW DEAL FOR CUBA

IT WOULD be a great mistake to assume that the worst of Cuba's troubles are over just because Machado has been kicked out.

Before Cuba can get permanently on the way to good government and economic health, there must be a pretty extensive readjustment of the relations which exist between that nation and the United States.

Independent in name, Cuba has actually been a protectorate, an economic dependency, of the United States ever since the war with Spain. It is worth remembering that Machado remained in office with Washington's approval; it is also worth remembering that the island's economic life was ruined very largely because of the attitude of certain American business and financial interests.

Our administration is in duty bound to develop a new deal for Cuba; it must find some way in which Cuba's freedom can be a genuine thing and not just an empty word.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

THE freakish ways in which criminals are sometimes brought to book can, occasionally, outdo the most far-fetched inventions of the novelist.

Consider, for example, the way in which the government was able to round up the Harvey Bailey gang in Texas.

Young Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil man, was kidnaped and held prisoner in a Texas farmhouse. He had no idea where he was, but he noticed that every morning and every evening an airplane flew over the house. One morning it failed to show up. So, when he was freed, and had told his story, it was a simple matter for the detectives to find out what airplane line was involved, to discover just what deviation in the scheduled flight had taken place on that particular morning, and, in that way, to locate the neighborhood in which Urschel had been held prisoner.

A dangerous bandit gang rounded up because an airplane had to make a detour one day to avoid bad weather—would any novelist dare invent anything as far-fetched as that?

It's just as well to look at these things optimistically. At least those big bankers who paid no income tax didn't get rebates.

One swallow doesn't make a summer, says the poet. But beer gardens report that a hot summer surely makes one swallow.

Ever since reading that Chicago dispatch that a nude dancer performed on the stage behind two fans, a local baseball enthusiast has complained that it failed to give their names.

The new register of the U. S. Treasury is an amateur magician. Just the sort of man that's needed to make that deficit disappear.

Writer estimates the U. S. will produce 16,000,000 bushels of spinach this year as compared with 42,000,000 in 1932. Hey! Haven't they heard about this crop reduction business?

It's funny, but it usually takes a pin-head to get the big-head.

Under the new rules of the game formulated by NRA, even one strike is out.

Jimmy Walker homesick, says a report from France. Strange! He wasn't homesick when he was Mayor of New York—and he wasn't home much then, either.

DAD'S WAY

Dad didn't save as much as many,
As much as some who hadn't any,
And yet we didn't do so bad,
We had about what others had;
The only way that Dad was funny,
He waited till he had the money.

Whatever someone seemed to crave,
He'd say, "All right, we'll have to save."
He didn't say, "All right, go buy it—
I'll try to keep the grocer quiet."
He'd say, "All right, we'll get the stuff—
As soon as we have saved enough."

And, if we dared to fret about it,
He'd say, "All right, we'll do without it."
He'd spend his money, as I say,
But that was always Father's way;
A funny way, some people thought it—
He saved the money, then he bought it.

LOVE OF EVE

(By NEA Service) BY LUCY WALLING

CHAPTER XII

It was Thursday, two weeks before Christmas. As he sat down at the breakfast table Dick asked, "Eve, do you think you could get away from the office Saturday morning? I'd like to make a little trip."

"Oh, I'd love it!" she said. "But how could I get away so near to Christmas? Think of all the evenings lately I've had to bring work home from the store."

"All right, remind your chief of that! You aren't paid for overtime. What's fair one way is fair another. I've outlined a little trip—" He produced a road map and with a pencil indicated the route.

"We'll go down state through some towns you've never seen. The scenery is especially attractive along the river. See, we'll cut off here into the hills—"

"Oh, Dick, it would be such fun!" Eve responded. "I'll see what I can do about getting off."

"I'd like to leave at 10 o'clock Saturday morning," Dick reminded her as he left the house.

But Saturday Eve had to attend to several tasks at the office. Dick drove her down town and left her while he went to his own job to make sure everything was satisfactory before leaving town. At 10 o'clock he drove up to the side entrance at Bixby's. At a quarter of 11 a flushed and nervous Eve emerged from the revolving doors and took her place at his side.

"Dick, I was so upset at keeping you waiting," she began, breathlessly. "Barnes was decent about letting me go. I had it all arranged, you know. Then —of all things!—Mr. Bixby called us all to his office. He bawled us out terribly for that mistake in Friday night's ad. Of course it was Mona Allen's fault but a lot of good it would do to tell Mr. Bixby that! It's results that count. And the store will have to take a big loss. You should see the mob of customers in that department this morning. Barnes and I both feel sick over it. I'm trembling so inside I can scarcely breathe."

"And yet you're determined to go on!" Dick said. "I won't tell you when to quit. It's up to you. But I want to remind you that no job is worth as much as your health. I don't care about how sick Barnes is; I've worries on my own job. But I'm not going to stand by without protesting while my wife becomes a nervous wreck!"

"Well, anyway I shouldn't have left when I did this morning," Eve went on. "Suppose Mr. Bixby sends for me again during the day and Barnes has to tell him I've gone to spend the week-end in the country?"

"He'll probably ask for your resignation," Dick replied cheerfully.

They rode in silence out Broadway and then turned south. Eve shuddered as they passed the gray stone walls of the state hospital. Many an inmate there, she knew, might have been saved if he had stopped the nervous strain in time. Chan often told her she did not relax enough.

She glanced at Dick's handsome profile. He looked strong, purposeful, and yet so calm.

"Dick, you never worry about your work, do you?" she began.

"Wouldn't say that," he answered. "Every job has its disagreeable side."

"But I never hear you rave and rant when you get home nights. My father used to relive the entire working day at the dinner table! If anyone upset a cog of the machinery that day we'd have to listen all through the meal until he finished telling his side of it and what he'd like to do to certain people! Sometimes he used rather violent language, too," Eve said.

"People do that and then wonder why they have nervous indigestion," Dick smiled. "You can't make things any better by harping on them 24 hours of a day. Makes them worse instead!"

"Well," Eve went on, "when I was still at home I decided that if I ever had a family of my own we'd talk about what's going on in the world at meal time. A child alone isn't apt to take much interest in world news but if there is a round table discussion with both mother and father giving their opinions and interpretation of important things that are happening the whole family is bound to get more out of life."

"Yes, most kids are bright enough," Dick agreed as they rode through an outlying factory district. "It's a cinch that if you give them a little help it's easier for them to get their bearings when they get out in the world."

"When I was a boy down on the farm," he continued, "we didn't have much money for foolishness. After chores were done we always had time for play but there was never any money spent on that play. Money was too scarce! In spite of that there never was a year when my father didn't have the price to subscribe to two daily newspapers. And, hard as he worked, Dad was never too tired to talk over the main part of the days' news with the family. When I came into the city I got plenty of razzing for being a 'green country boy' but I wasn't really as green as they thought." And Dick grinned.

"Your father was awfully strict with you, wasn't he?" Eve asked. Dick so rarely talked about himself that she was interested.

"Well, Dad was a smart man," laughed Dick, "and he never took orders from anyone under the age of 10."

Eve settled down and pulled the laprobe more firmly about her.

"Warm enough, sweetheart?" Dick asked.

She assured him that she was. They had left the city far behind now and were riding over flat farm country—hard, brown and barren looking in the December cold. There was little life to be seen around the houses.

"I pity the people who have to live in this neighborhood," Eve said. "They miss so much!"

"Well, don't pity them," Dick told her. "Pity the children who grow up without knowing the woods or a country swimming hole or owning a flock of pets ranging from a baby calf down to a litter of live Easter bunnies. There are actually kids who never have seen an oriole nest except in a picture in a book. There are lots of them who never have the chance to roam over hills and along creeks exploring. They are the ones to be sorry for!"

They stopped for luncheon in one of the pottery manufacturing towns. Eve enjoyed watching the ceramic workers file in for their noon day meal. She had always felt a certain compassion for girls who worked in factories. She saw now that, instead of appearing unhappy, these girls and young men represented a group busy with their own interests. They were having a good time and Eve was amazed to see also that many of the girls' costumes bore the earmarks of the latest fashions. She made a mental note to keep them in mind in the future when she was writing advertising copy. It would help her create a more universal interest in Bixby's advertising.

"Dick, I'm getting a lot out of this trip!" she said enthusiastically.

"Sure. Does you good to get away from the smoke of your own chimney," he commented.

The ground rolled gently in an easterly direction until they neared the river where they found the hills steep with a trace of snow left from a recent storm. They passed miners' huts and tenements. Eve was shocked by the stark poverty of those ugly dwellings. The sight brought from Dick a lengthy discourse on the subject of injustice.

They turned inland at sunset and just as twilight fell Dick drove over the brow of a hill. A heterogeneous array of roofs lay before them. It seemed to Eve as though the roofs lifted and suddenly, with jack-in-a-box quickness, Tamkinville peeped out at them—dingy, desolate looking. Eve noted with contempt the many old buildings with false fronts to make them look a story higher. Heavens, had they come all this way just to visit an uninteresting place like this? What possible interest did Dick think she might have here? Eve was furious.

ExAlderman James Powers has been appointed as poor commissioner of the city of Escanaba to succeed the late Narcisse Blanchette. The names of John M. Wright, Mr. Powers and Louis Vezina were presented to the council for consideration and on the first ballot Mr. Powers was elected to fill the vacancy.

Members of the council referred to the police committee a petition from Chief of Police Andrew Iverson asking that a motorcycle policeman be appointed. It was pointed out by Chief Iverson that there are now at least a dozen automobiles and several motorcycles in Escanaba and foot policemen are wholly unable to stop scorching by the drives in the business and residence districts of the city.

About this matter of minutes and miles

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

The speedometer is a little thing, but can be a big source of wrong conclusions.

On a recent test, two cars of different makes, with speedometers set at 0, were given each two gallons of gas, and driven the same road till they stopped. The top car went 7 miles farther down the road than the low car, yet the low car's speedometer showed that it had gone farther than the top car. Paper miles and road miles may be two quite different things.

It is easier to build a speedometer that will read 70 miles an hour than a car that will go 70 miles an hour.

A Detroit man who has a summer home in Northern Michigan, began several months ago to drive his first Ford V-8. He says:

"My watch tells me that I go up north in less time than I did before, but my Ford speedometer says that I go at slower speed, and the trip registers fewer miles. In my former car the speedometer speed was higher, my mileage greater on this trip, but with my Ford V-8 I go in less time and use less gas."

There is no mystery about that. His former mileage, speed and gas consumption were delusions. He figured by a speedometer that did not measure accurately, and was not meant to. All his costs--operations, repairs, upkeep---were calculated on a wrong basis. A wrong speedometer misleads on all these items.

Some car manufacturers justify this practice. They say it is just as well for a driver to think he is going 70 miles an hour when he is going only 62. Well, let that pass as to speed; does it justify telling every driver that he is getting more mileage out of his car than he really is? A speedometer measures speed AND mileage: should it cheat on both?

Speeding up a clock cannot create more hours any more than speeding up a speed-meter can create more miles. An hour is sixty minutes long. A mile is 5280 feet long. Ford mileage and Ford speed are accurately measured---they are there---you get them---no one gets more.

Anyone can buy speedometers and have them "fixed" anyway he wants them. We deal with manufacturers who know our strict stand on accuracy and are glad to meet our specifications. The limit of variation in Ford speedometers, a limit that cannot be avoided in manufacture, is 2¾ at 70 miles.

We get our speed and mileage out of our engine and wheels, not out of our speedometer.

The tempting mousse pictured here is made and garnished with squares of quince butter, but fresh fruits, berries, jams and jellies can be substituted.

A frozen dessert is always a perfect ending for any meal. Most adults are like small boys when it comes to desserts. Show them a frozen one and no matter how much they've already eaten, they won't turn down the dessert course.

A mousse is one of the easiest to prepare of the frozen desserts. One good mousse recipe can be varied by using different berries, fruits, jellies and jams. Pineapple, cherries, peaches and bananas are among the fresh fruits to consider. All kinds of berries, either fresh or canned, are good, too.

If you're tired of serving fruits and berries, why not try some of the many delicious jams and jellies? That old favorite, strawberry preserves, besides giving a frozen dessert a handsome color, it is delicious.

Spain has contributed a delicious concoction which comes under the head of jellies. It's called membrillo, which is the Spanish word for quince. It looks a great deal like our own old-fashioned apple butter, except that membrillo has a thicker consistency and comes in bricks instead of jars.

Here is a splendid mousse recipe. It is made with membrillo, but any other fruit, jelly or berry can be substituted with equal success.

You will need 3 egg yolks, 1 ounce of sugar, 1 cup of crushed membrillo or any other fruit or jam, 1 pint of cream and a dash of vanilla. Beat the yolks and the sugar on a low fire until the mixture thickens. Don't let it boil. Remove from the fire and beat until cold, then add chopped membrillo. (If you use berries, be sure and drain off the juice.)

Whip the cream and add it to the mixture. Place in a mold and put it in the ice box for four hours. Unmold when you are ready to serve and place the whole brick of mousse on a platter on the table. Let each person cut off his own slice.

Every year, British automatic machines receive 2,500,000 pennies, 900,000,000 sixpences, and 300,000,000 shillings; French coins found in them are traded across the channel for British coins found in French machines.

Woolens First In Wardrobe of College Student

Paris (AP)—The girl who hopes to gain a Bachelor of Chic as well as a Bachelor of Arts when she starts to college this fall must watch her woolens.

Wool is the keynote of the campus girl's wardrobe this year, for it appears in coats, suits, frocks, hats and scarfs. Silk crepes also are used for blouses, frocks and scarfs.

Color combinations are another important collegiate note. Black is rarely seen, such subtle combinations as smoke gray and tobacco brown, dark leaf green and wood brown, burgundy red and champagne biege being the order of the day.

The coats in which the college girl will trip to class are as trim as a soldier's uniform. Notched lapels and broad revers take the place of costly furs on many models. Fasteners of leather, copper and wood often replace regulation buttons.

High necks and slender silhouettes are the rule for class room frocks. A bright scarf of wool or ribbon crossed over the collar bones, a shirred elastic ribbon fitting closely about the throat or a little upstanding frill finish the smartest dresses. A tobacco brown frock and hat with a smoke gray coat and a green coat belted in brown are two of the smartest collegiate combinations.

A wool suit or ensemble will be one of the most useful items in the school girl's wardrobe, since it is ready for travel, classroom or foot ball game. A beige-brown wool suit with a high-necked red wool blouse and a dark gray suit with a sapphire blue wool blouse are two chic combinations.

The campus girl's hat may be a knitted wool in a round toque or pointed pixie shape, worn tilted on one side of her head.

The Chinese are believed to be the hardest working farmers and the lowest paid.

Today's Recipe

An excellent recipe for dill pickles, one of the Betty Ann collection, received from Mrs. Chester Papineau, of Navarino, Wis., is reprinted this morning in answer to a special request.

Dill Pickles

Wash small cucumbers and pack as evenly as possible in mason jars. One-half gallon size jars are best. Place a sprig of dill and a tiny lump of alum in each jar and fill with the following liquid which should be cold or cool when put on the pickles:

To one gallon warm water, add three cups of vinegar and one large cup of salt. Stir until salt has dissolved.

Place jar covers in a pan of boiling water, taking them out one by one to seal jars, making sure they are air tight. A little melted paraffin poured around each cover will insure this. The above liquid may be made and kept in a cool place for use when needed.

Sweet Potato Souffle

1 bouillon cube
2 tbsps. boiling water
4 cups mashed sweet potatoes
3-4 cup cream
1-3 cup butter
3 eggs
½ tsp. pepper

Boil potatoes, peel while hot. Mash and add butter and seasoning; beat egg yolks and add to potatoes, with cream and cube dissolved in boiling water. When cold, fold in stiffly beaten whites. Bake in buttered dish in moderate oven about 18 minutes (350 degrees F.).

A simple sour cream dressing is delicious with cucumbers or cabbage.

A request which came in Saturday asks for the recipe used by the ladies of one of the Escanaba churches for mock mince meat canned for the unemployed last summer.

If you have this recipe will you call 693, or write the recipe out and send it to the Press office?

THE SPIDER SILK experiment in France proved very disappointing. Although the cocoon silk of the spider is much stronger than that used in webs, it was found to be much niferior to that of the silkworm. It took 7,000 spiders to weave a pound of the silk, and it was difficult to keep a large supply on hand, especially since the spiders insisted on devouring each other.

Champions Beaten By Swedes, 8 to 2; Play Icemen Today

Pasting the veteran Ottenhoff pretty hard, the Swedes Friday evening easily defeated the city champion Buckeyes, 8-2. A fair sized crowd watched the fracas which was staged to raise money to aid in sending a city entry to the upper peninsula tournament. It was the first time in three starts that the Swedes were able to come out on the long end of the count.

Both teams were minus their regular shortstops, Harry Kircher taking Rouman's place on the Swedes lineup and Couillard filling in for Merwin Kircher on the Buckeye ten. Ottenhoff went the route, while Sword and Ducheney divided duties for the winners.

This afternoon, another exhibition will be staged, the city champs facing the Lierman clan. The game will be called at 2:30.

Emil D. Smith has left for Detroit where he will spend several weeks with his parents.

LEGION BOXING SHOW FRIDAY

Ecklestaufer and Joe Anderson Top Fine Athletic Card

An athletic exhibition of exceptionally high calibre will be presented to sports fans next Friday evening, August 25, at the high school gymnasium when a card of six bouts and two wrestling matches will go on the boards under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion. All matches have been arranged by Clifford (Bucky) Jackson, local boxer and promoter. The entertainment will start at 8 p. m.

Headlining the card is the bout between Joe Anderson, of Gladstone, and Ernie Ecklestaufer, of Newberry, neither of whom need much introduction to boxing fans. Anderson has demonstrated his skill here several times in the past few months and his established himself as a prime favorite. Ecklestaufer also is no newcomer. He is noted as a knockout expert and has added quite a string of victims to his list recently. Some time back he demonstrated his sleep producing wallop against Norman Jahn, local amateur pugilist. The match will be an exhibition between the scientific boxer and the hard, rugged type of fighter who packs a tremendous wallop. It will be an eight-round affair.

Good Semi-Windup

Frenchy LaLonde, local middleweight, who has had great success of late, will be given the acid test when he stacks up against the more experienced Roy Anderson, Gladstone pugilist and brother of the famous Joe, in the semi-windup in a six-round setto.

Preliminary bouts will see John Haindl, of Cooks, and Benny Woods, of Manistique, in the 135 pound class, and the Nelson twins, Robert and Ralph, putting on a midget affair.

Two other preliminary matches were arranged by Promoter Jackson yesterday in addition to a clown fiasco calculated to put the fans in a jovial mood.

Wrestling matches will see Elmer Knuth, of Cooks, tangling with Sagebrush Hilton, Beaver Island, in the 140 pound class while in the 120 pound division, Jack Pine Miller, of Manistique, will hook up with Milton Cousineau, also of this city.

The Anderson brothers, Joe and Roy, are taking their exhibitions in a serious vein and this week will establish training quarters at the Pines C. C. C. encampment where an open air ring has been constructed.

Smithson Infant Dies At Steuben

James Junior Smithson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smithson of Steuben, passed away at five o'clock Friday morning as the result of an illness of only 15 hours duration. Death was due to convulsions.

Interment will take place this afternoon in the Thompson cemetery with short prayer services taking place at the grave. Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, will have charge of the burial.

Mrs. Hans Klagstad arrived on Friday evening from Detroit and will spend a week visiting with her son, Rab Klagstad at the Simmons cottage on Harrison Beach, Indian Lake.

THEATRES

"Mama Love Papa," first co-starring picture for that ideally-mated pair of comedians, Mary Boland and Charlie Ruggles, now showing at the Rialto Theatre.

Miss Boland and Ruggles were starred together after the Paramount studio, which had featured them in three previous pictures—"The Night of June 13th," "Evenings for Sale," and "If I Had a Million"—found that audiences wanted more of the combination. The demand registered at theatres everywhere was so hearty, in fact that "Mama Loves Papa" was written especially to suit their respective comedy talents.

Miss Boland and Ruggles are a middle-aged couple whose troubles begin when Miss Boland, filled with ideas of "culture" learned from popular lecturers, decides that her husband must wear formal dress on every possible occasion. When he goes to his office in a cutaway and striped pants, he starts a series of fateful events that cost him his job, cinch his selection to an important civic post, get him fired again and generally upset his and his wife's well-ordered life.

Mrs. Wilbur Cowell, Marguerite Brooks, and Constance Stock are expected to return today from a five day visit in Chicago with relatives and friends.

Miss Marguerite O'Connell left for Chicago last night where she will visit at the World's Fair and with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rosa and family left yesterday morning for their home in Detroit after spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holmberg, Lake Shore Drive.

TEAM	W.	L.	PCT.

Cleaners	5	2	.714
Nortons	4	3	.571
Sinclairs	2	6	.250

GAMES THIS WEEK

Monday—
Fords vs. Nortons.
Tuesday—
Barkers vs. Cleaners.
Wednesday—
Fords vs. Sinclairs.
Thursday—
Cleaners vs. Nortons.

The Manistique Cleaners, the champs for the first half of the season, climbed up into the running for the second half championship as well last week by capturing two contests, one of them from the league leading Fords to place them within striking distance of the leaders. The Fords now hold only a one game lead.

The second round of the split season of three rounds each, ends with the Barker-Cleaners contest Tuesday night and Wednesday's game will see the commencement of the third and final round of the second half when the Fords, Cleaners, and Nortons will gallop down the home stretch, each with possibilities of capturing the pennant. The Oils, who completed their second round of games on Thursday night, and Barkers, are practically eliminated from pennant possibilities unless the leading trio falls into a slump. If the Manistique Cleaners overhaul the Fords and capture the second half of the league race as well it would automatically eliminate the contemplated "little world series" between the first and second half winners.

With the starting of the third round of games on Wednesday, the second and final half of the split season will be concluded on Thursday, Sept. 7, with the Barkers meeting the Cleaners.

The league leaders will have a tough assignment on their hands this week when they take on Nortons and the Oils. The latter team despite their low percentage, have a good team on paper and are strong potential winners no matter whom they happen to compete against.

The week's play will also furnish the acid test for the Nortons who play the leading Ford and Cleaner aggregations. If they manage to break even, they will figure as strong pennant factors in the remainder of the season's games.

All Legion members are strongly requested to be present Thursday evening.

WELFARE WORK WAGE CHANGED

Crews To Be Paid 30c an Hour, Work 8 Hours a Day

As soon as the August allotment of work relief funds is received, it is expected that new pay schedules will be put in effect for welfare workers in Delta county, both on city and county projects, to conform to the new regulations of the federal emergency relief commission. The change will bring a wage increase of five cents an hour for local workers, along with an eight-hour day, and will also affect the office personnel engaged in payroll and administration of welfare funds. About 400 men will be affected in Delta county.

The rule governing employment on work relief projects says:

Rates of pay—On and after August 1, 1933, grants made under the federal emergency relief act of 1933 can be used in paying work relief wages only at or above thirty cents (30c) an hour. The local prevailing rate of pay for the type of work performed should be paid if it is in excess of 30 cents per hour.

On and after August 1, 1933, no one employed on a work relief project shall be allowed to work more than eight (8) hours in any one day, nor more than thirty-five (35) hours in any one week (or one hundred and fifty hours (150) in any one month) if the work involved is physical labor. If the work relief project is in an office (involving the use of clerical employees, etc.) no one shall be allowed to work more than eight (8) hours in any one day nor more than forty (40) hours in any one week. The number of hours of work-relief given per week or per month should be only enough to provide for the budgetary needs of the family.

Trade and Diplomatic Factors Complicating Recognition Problems

This article, last of three clarifying the relationships between the U. S. A. and the U. S. S. R., tells of the points now being considered by the government as recognition appears nearer than at any time since 1918.

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Writer

Washington.—To recognize or not to recognize?

That is the question that is furrowing many an official brow in Washington these days. Even if it proves possible to heal the sore spot of the repudiated Kerensky debt, the principal consideration is just this: will recognition pay?

Is the great volume of trade that Soviet Russia is dangling before the world really a benefit to the country that gets it? Will mere diplomatic recognition help to get it al all, inasmuch as American business men are free to trade with and lend credit to Russia now if they wish?

Is recognition and normal diplomatic dealing with Russia likely to come in handy to the United States when the problems of the Far East must be settled? Will Russia "promise to be good" regarding propaganda for a Communist revolution in the United States?

Can an adjustment of the Kerensky debt be made that will "save our face" in the matter? (Nobody seriously expects to get the money.) Inasmuch as we must first lend Russia the money with which she is to buy from us, is there really anything in it, and will she pay it back?

Getting Used to Losses

First, in American documents on the subject, comes the Kerensky debt, and the confiscation of American private property in Russia. The debt to the Czar's government was kissed goodby long ago. But the American position for more than 10 years was that there was nothing to negotiate on the Kerensky debt—Russia could pay any time, and then we would negotiate on the other subjects.

But the experience of the past few years in the field of international debts, with the United States whittling many of them down from 30 to as much as 80 per cent, and then getting repudiation as a reward, has made us a little less squeamish about repudiation than we used to be. The Russian debt is not a large monetary transaction, and ought to be easy to straighten out if the will exists to negotiate.

The propaganda question is the one that comes first in many American minds. The Bolshevik government was grounded frankly in the Marxian idea that the Communist system must be imposed simultaneously on all countries to succeed—the "World Revolution." The fact that people or other countries did not embrace Communism, but rather formed a firm front against it, was the bitterest disappointment of the early days of the Soviets. They couldn't understand it, and can't yet.

There is not the slightset doubt that they tried their best to propadandize their ideas abroad even in distant America. Soviet Russia no doubt would promise readily not to do any such work, as Josef Stalin, the present Russian "boss," is believed to be resigned to building Communism in Russia first. Propoganda is conducted by the Third Internationale, anyway, not by the Russian government, though for practical purposes it makes no difference. As Russia is the only Communist country, it inevitably dominates the Internationale. Russia could promise "no propaganda," and keep its promise, relying on the Internationale to promote the "World Revolution," which is the latter's main object. So this becomes a matter of good faith, which must be gauged by past performance, and a guess at present intent.

Trade Is Big Factor

Now as to the promise of Russian trade, with which Russia is accused of trying to "buy" recognition. In 1930 our exports to Russia had risen to $136,162,000, the peak. This dropped away last year to a trickle of $16,000,000. Former Senator Smith W. Brookhart believes there are $300,000,000 worth of orders waiting for the United States in Russia within the next five years if proper credits may be extended and proper facilities opened up for negotiating. Is it worth going after?

What we send to Russia must be paid for in gold, goods, or services, as we have bitterly learned in trying to collect the war debts. Russian services are pretty colsely limited to the tourist trade, a small item. But Russia produces more than $50,000,000 worth of gold every year, and we might get some of that to make up the difference between the goods we send her and those she sends us.

Some of the goods Russia could send are not wanted. Her lumber, fish and grain compete directly with our own. But there are things like platinum, manganese, furs, caviar, flax, hemp, licorice, bristles, which could be imported in considerable quantity without competing with American products.

Credit Draws Debate

Would Russia pay back credits advanced to her for use in trading with America? The fact stands out that the Soviet government has not defaulted on a penny of its external debt, paying every obligation on or before the date due.

Opponents of recognition, however, suggest that for 15 years the balance of trade has been consistently against Russia, and that with many long-term obligations beginning to come due ($165,000,000 to Germany alone this year) there will be an increasing tendency to default. Italy, which had an arrangement whereby she paid cash for Soviet purchases and let the Soviets buy from her on credit, last February denounced the arrangement as unsatisfactory.

The peculiar feature of Russian trade is that private firms here must deal with the government body in Russia that governs all foreign trade. But this fact remains: that exports to Soviet Russia must in the long run be paid for in imports of goods from Soviet Russia produced under a system that many regard as unfair competition. Whether there is any eventful gain in this, the government must decide.

The Diplomatic Factor

Aside from these very practical trade considerations, the diplomatic side is important. It may be well argued that Russia and the United States have a common interest in the expansion program of Japan as it moves toward domination of the Far East. As Japan moves westward, and as it dominates more and more of the Pacific coast of Asia, it clashes with Russia. As it expands, and gets a preferred interest in trade in larger and larger areas of Manchuria, Mongolia and even China proper, it may well clash with the interests of the United States. Some day, it is argued, the United States and Russia may find it mutually profitable to be on good terms in the Far East.

Is Russia to be considered a promise-breaker, repudiator, international trouble-maker, unstable minority despotism, poor business risk, unfair competitor, diplomatic outcast?

Or is it to be considered a reliable promise-keeper, weaned of the world revolution dream, solidly based on the Russian people's will, good customer, fair competitor, brother in the family of nations?

The answer may come at any time from the deliberations now going on in official Washington.

Complete Surveys Of Airfield Sites

Surveys of landing field sites to be developed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the upper peninsula have been completed by Major Floyd Evans and other members of the state aeronautics department.

Surveys have been made of fields to be developed by C. C. C. labor at the following locations: Hessell, Deer Park, Covington, Simar, Trout Creek, Raco, Naubinway, Foster City, Cedar River, Brevort, Elmwood and Watersmeet. It is somewhat doubtful that the latter two fields will be developed by C. C. C. labor because of the great distance of these locations from the camp sites. It is hoped to have a camp re-located in order to have one or both of these fields developed.

Surveys have been made for using C. C. C. labor for completing or improving the following landing fields: Indian River, St. Ignace (construction of a hangar), Moran (drainage), Walsh, Ishpeming, Amasa, Crystal Falls, Sidnaw, Atlanta and West Branch.

C. C. C. Boys Doing First Class Work In Peninsula Woods

Continued good work and an amazing amount of it when the short working hours are considered is credited to the CCC boys by L. R. Schoenmann, director of the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work, who is spending several days in and about Newberry. The boys show a spirit of unusual cooperation, Mr. Schoenmann stated, and deserve appreciation for what is being accomplished. Being young and with high spirits they tackle some grilling project much as they would a football game, giving unlimited energy to it and taking pride in doing a job well.

The United States army has made it possible for this huge project to be effective, the director believes. It would have been quiet impossible to put such a large force in operation so quickly without the services of this fine group of trained army men who took charge, almost overnight, of the transportation, shelter, food, and general welfare of thousands of lads, many of whom had first to be fed for several weeks before they could do an hour's work.

Boys Like Camp

Just what plans will be carried out for the coming winter is not at this time known, Mr. Schoenmann stated. The Michigan department made recommendations to the meeting held in Washington on August 7 that some of the camps could be kept at full strength and well used during the cold weather, and that others should be transferred in part to a warmer territory. In one of the downstate camps the boys were asked to state how many would re-inlist and between 90 and 95 per cent voted to continue for another six month period at least.

Fire Fighters

Mr. Schoenmann reports that conservation officials give the CCC lads an excellent name for the manner in which they met their first experiences in fire fighting. Many of them had never before seen a slash, brush, grass or forest fire, but had heard and read of the terrors and believed themselves in constant danger. In spite of that they stood up to the fires in a splendid manner and did excellent work wherever they were called.

This experience has been valuable not only for the CCC boys but also for the organizations represented, as many problems came up concerning the dove-tailing of authority and responsibility which made it possible to arrive at a system by which the army, the conservation department and the camp officials can now take a fire, meet all emergencies of relief, food and equipment, with no confusion and complete effectiveness.

Mr. Schoenmann, arriving on Friday, will spend Sunday at Blaney, and remain in this end of the peninsula until the middle of the week when he will continue downstate to visit those few state camps which he has not yet inspected.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

Miss Marie Westin leaves today for Grand Rapids where she will be joined by her former college room-mate, Mary White, and will go to Chicago to attend the fair. While there she will visit her brother, Clinton Weston, who is employed at the exposition.

Miss Dagnas Johnson has gone to Chicago. She will visit her sister, Mrs. H. McMichaels, while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bystrom will leave on Sunday for a trip to Grand Rapids and Lansing.

PAUL BUNYAN HERE?

An announcement at the local conservation office that a new warden is expected has caused considerable excitement, especially when the uniform for the new man was unpacked. The pants measure about seven feet from belt to cuff and are fitted for a man larger around than the Big Pine exhibited on Truman avenue. The rest of the uniform is kept stored in the large upper room at headquarters, there not being room for it as the pants alone reach from floor to ceiling. The name of the new warden has not yet been announced but it is reported the luggage bears the letters "P. B."

Incidently Major Floyd Evans of the Michigan aeronautical department, together with Mr. Sommers, representing the federal government in that department, arrived in Newberry to inspect the newly laid out emergency landing fields in this territory. He is reported to have said that if the warden does not show up he could use the pants by making a wind sock of each leg. The Superior landing field was visited and the new one at Walsh will be inspected in a few days.

Hogs 6,000, including 5,500 direct; nominally steady; choice kinds absent; quotable top around 4.50; shippers took 300 head, bought Friday; estimated holdover 1,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 19—Prospective total abolition of daily limits on price changes electrified grain markets today, and brought about huge buying that made wheat skyrocket 4¼ cents. Corn went whizzing up 4 cents. The extreme rise permissible at present.

Immense profit-taking sales led to many reactions during the upward sweep of values, but big concentrated buying of wheat developed on setbacks, and proved too powerful to be overcome. One broker alone purchased upward of 5,000,000 bushels, and there was talk that his operations represented part of a possible deal with the Orient through financing from the United States government.

Wheat and corn both held most of the day. Closing was unsettled, wheat 3 1-8 to 3 5-8 above yesterday's finish; corn 3 1-8 to 3 3-4 up, oats 1 3-8 to 1 3-4 advanced, and provisions showing a rise of 19 to 30 cents.

Assisting the rise of all grains was widespread notice taken of official statements concerning government plans relative to corn and hogs. These statements were generally regarded as emphasizing corn crop shortage and big deficits of production in oats and other feeds as well as in bread grains.

Provisions rose promptly with cereals.

As it stands now, the Caslon Bonds lead the pack with 11 wins to 3 losses with the Northland Cafe crew close behind with 10 wins and 3 losses and one more scheduled game to play with the Standard Oils. Should they win this contest, they must meet the Bonds, in a game to decide which club shall take this, the second round. The Bears captured the initial rounds with 13 wins and 1 loss.

The Northland Cafe defeated the Swedes 8-2 in a rained-out game. The Bears went after Norberg grimly for 13 hits while the Scandinavians were helpless except in the first and last innings. Batteries—Swedes: Norberg and Bell. Northland Cafe: E. Artibee and Dale.

The Munising Oils saw their hopes of a second city championship go glimmering as the Swedes rallied in the fifth with the score 5-2 against them to tally eight runs and cinch the game 10-5. Batteries: M. Oils: Miron and Tiernan, Swedes: Seaberg and Bell.

The Northland Cafe club went on a batting rampage to defeat the Munising Bottling Works 16-5. The Bears batter around in the third frame and the issue was never in doubt. Batteries—Munising Bottling Works: Dott and Messier. Northland Cafe: E. Artibee and Dale.

With the Caslon Bonds leading 7-0 in the fourth canto, Umpire Fleming called the contest on account of rain, giving the game to the Papermakers against the Swedes. The latter never threatened throughout the battle, the Bonds driving in four runs in the first frame and three more in the third. Batteries—Swedes: Norberg and Bell. Caslon Bonds, Eckdahl and Lasak.

BASEBALL

Chatham's snappy baseball crew demonstrated why they are leading the Inter-County league as they downed the Caslon Bonds 4-1 in an exhibition game here Thursday night. After the locals had pushed one run across in the first frame on Lasak's single and Wrona's double to left, they were held scoreless by the masterful pitching of Onnie Posio and the airtight support accorded him by his mates while the Chatham batsmen bombarded Malone for a quartette of runs. Twice, Munising had the tying runs on the bases but the Chatham defense was equal to every occasion and maintained their lead. The game was remarkably well played and interesting to the small crowd of fans that attended. Featherly, who cavorted at third for Chatham was the star of the game for besides driving in two of his club's runs, he made several sensational stops, once leaping high in the air to make a one-handed stab of Arbour's sizzling line drive. Batteries—Chatham: O. Posio and Lammi. Munising: Malone and Boyak. Umpires: Bryan and Ferguson.

Grand American Trapshooting Opens Monday

3 ESCANABANS WILL COMPETE

$53,000 Cash Offered as Prizes at Vandalia Tourney

BY JAMES L. RENICK
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Vandalia, O., Aug. 19 (AP)—The nation's best marksmen converged on this little hamlet today anxious to get in a few more practice shots before the opening of the thirty-fourth annual Grand American Handicap tournament Monday.

Sharpensteen

They were here from four corners of North America and the Canal Zone—some 900 of them—all intent on taking home some part of the $53,000 cash award or some of the $10,000 worth of trophies which will be given away during the week.

The week's barrage starts off with the women's amateur clay target championship of America, the junior, sub-junior; the amateur championship of North America at double targets; the professional title at doubles. These will be decided at 100 targets.

Tuesday the women will decide their doubles championship and at the same time the champion of champions race will be fired. This is open only to winners of state titles. During the afternoon the annual East-West team race will be shot. Members of the team are selected from the high scorers in the earlier events.

Wednesday will see the class championships after which the all-America trapshooting team will be selected. Members of this will be the ten high scorers on 16-yard targets during the first three days of the meet.

The preliminary handicap will be fired Thursday. Conditions for this event are exactly the same as they will be the following day during the Grand American. The preliminary is held so shoters may become more familiar with the yardage assigned them for the Grand.

It is expected that more than 900 shooters will take part in the Grand Friday which is decided on 100 handicap targets. A purse of $16,000 goes to the winner. Last year 817 took part in this feature event which was won by Arthur E. Sheffield, a postal railway clerk from Dixon, Ill.

ESCANABANS ENTERED

H. O. Brotherton, E. L. Brotherton and J. T. Sharpensteen, well known members of the Escanaba Trapshooting club, left Friday by motor for Vandalia to compete in various events of the Grand American Handicap tournament.

BETTY NUTHALL THRILLS CROWD

Sensational Comeback in National Meet Wins Real Admiration

BY GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 19 (AP)—Betty Nuthall, thoroughly British and possibly the "tightengest" girl ever to pull on a pair of tennis shorts, supplied 8,000 spectators at the women's national tennis championships today with a thrill that lingered on.

Betty, along with the one and only Mrs. Helen Moody, won her quarter-final match, delayed by yesterday's rain. She beat blonde Alice Marble of San Francisco, 6-8, 6-0, 7-5. While Queen Helen was toying with Mary Heely, of the British forces, 6-0, 6-2.

But the story is how Betty, faced with defeat in the final set, given up by the crowd, pulled back from the brink with a grand display of courage and went on to defeat Miss Marble, regarded as the finest of this country's younger crop of players. The oldest regulars around the press marquee could recall nothing to compare with the comeback of Betty.

The drama was wrapped up in the final set, after Miss Marble had won the first, a long, bitterly fought affair, and Miss Nuthall had captured the second without the loss of a game to square the match. Returning for the third set, the tall American girl flashed a superb brand of tennis to befuddle Miss Nuthall and win five of the first six games. She was playing Marvelous Tennis, and she needed only one more victory to clinch the set and the match.

Never Cautious

No one would have given a dime for Betty's chances at that juncture. They would have given even less a few second later when Alice, behind her powerful service, ran the count to 40-15, one point from victory; two chances to get it. And that was when Betty chose to put on her own, private show.

The first point Miss Marble batted into the net after a long rally. On the second Betty passed her with a clean placement to deuce the game. She won the next five consecutive games. She won the set, 7-5, and the match and the lasting admiration of an audience 3,000 miles from home.

The crowd scarcely could believe its eyes as Betty, putting everything she had behind every stroke, never considered caution for a minute, slowly cut down Miss Marble's seemingly safe lead. In the tenth game the American girl again was at match point on one occasion, only to double-fault in her eagerness. That was the last chance she said. The final game of the match saw Miss Marble turned back without a point on her own service. She tossed her bat in the air as the deciding point, a clean placement whizzled past.

The match required an hour and a half to play, compared with the 22 minutes Mrs. Moody needed to dispose of Miss Heeley. Queen Helen won 11 straight games before she eased up and spared her rival a white-washing. Miss Heeley's helplessness brought laughter from the crowd, and there were times when even Mary joined in the merriment.

MARBERRY IN TIP TOP FORM

Detroit Hurler Sets on Athletics to Tune of 6 to 0

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—Fred Marberry of Detroit was robbed of a perfect game against the Philadelphia Athletics here today when Foxx and McNair singled in the eighth inning, but he did manage to turn in a 6 to 0 shutout victory after a splendid pitching performance.

During the first seven innings Marberry retired the visitors in order, pitching only 55 balls. Only three Philadelphia batsmen reached first base, Finney walking in the ninth.

Meanwhile Rogell, Owen, Fox, Gehringer, Marberry and Greenberg solved Rube Walberg's delivery, driving him from the mound as the sixth inning ended in a welter of hits that yielded six runs. Coombs took up the pitching assignment, and held the Bengals to one additional hit.

The victory put Detroit in a fourth place tie with the visiting Philadelphians.

White Sox Beat Yankees In 12th In Licking Browns

Chicago, Aug. 19 (AP)—The White Sox spotted the New York Yankees seven runs through some loose playing and Babe Ruth's 28th homer of the season in the early innings today, then came back to win in the 12th, 8 to 7, and end their five game losing streak. The defeat put the Yankees 8½ games behind the league leading Washington Senators.

A triple by Evar Swanson with the bases loaded climaxed a five run rally at the expense of Charley Ruffing and Wiley Moore in the eighth that tied the score. Charley Devens, the young right hander who checked that outburst was reached for the winning run in the 12th when Charley Berry doubled and Hal Rhyne lined a single off Tony Lazzeri's glove.

Ruth's homer came with the bases empty and Chad Kimsey on the mound in the third, leaving the Babe eight homers behind Jimmie Foxx of Philadelphia.

KLEIN KNOCKS THREE HOMERS

Helps Phillies Capture Twin Bill from Cincinnati

Philadelphia, Aug. 19 (AP)—Chuck Klein's mighty bat—the bludgeon which is leading the National League in batting and home runs—poled out three four-baggers today to contribute in a large part toward the Phillies' twin triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Chuck Klein

The husky outfielder rammed out a pair of the circuit clouts in the opener which the Phils won 12 to 2 with Roy Hansen pitching. In the nightcap, Klein added his third round-trip clout of the day. Austin (Cy) Moore pitched his second shutout triumph in less than a week to take that contest 3 to 0.

Wes Schulmerich also connected for a homer, cracking one of Si Johnson's pitches in the second inning of the opener.

Each time Klein hit for the circuit, one man was on. In the third inning of the first game, he scored behind Chick Fullis, and in the fourth Dick Bartell was on when he connected. The last homer was in the third inning of the closing game with Fullis again occupying a base.

Cleveland Takes Firmer Hold On Third Place Post

Cleveland, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Indians took a firmer grip on third place in the American League race today by nosing out Boston, 6 to 5, for the second straight victory over the Red Sox.

It was no walkaway, however, what with a four-run rally by the Sox in the seventh inning, which sent Clint Brown to the showers.

Cissel and Averill combined two singles and a stolen base for one run in the first. Two sacrifices, one on the third strike, and another on a fly, coupled with three hits and an error bagged three more runs for the Indians in the fifth.

The Sox tied up the score in the seventh, however, with a blistering rally, involving five hits. Hale's pop double and Kamm's single in the eighth, however, permitted Cleveland to win. Connally received credit for the victory, and Welch was charged with the defeat.

BIG SIX STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Chuck Klein walloped three home runs and a single in nine times at bat against Cincinnati yesterday but the Phillies' ace couldn't make much of a gain in the Big Six race as he added only one point to his average, bringing it up to .373. Bill Terry broke his tie with Spud Davis for second place in the National League and fourth in the Big Six, shooting his mark up three points to .437 with two hits in three times up while Davis lost a point, hitting one out of four. The three American Leaguers did little, Heinie Manush gaining a point, Jimmie Foxx losing one and Al Simmons holding his mark even with two hits in six attempts. The standing:

GIANTS DEFEAT CHICUBS, 8 TO 4

Circuit Blows Play Big Part in Victory of New York

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Giants' championship aspirations received considerable encouragement today as they opened their "crucial" stand against the Chicago Cubs, first of three strong western invaders, with an 8 to 4 victory.

The triumph, coming while the Pittsburgh Pirates were losing to Boston, gave the Giants a lead of six games over the second place Pittsburgh club and seven over the Cubs, who are third.

The Giants fashioned their victory largely through the home run route as Carl Hubbell failed to last the full distance after six fine innings on the slab. Mel Ott walloped two circuit drives, his 16th and 17th of the year, and Lefty Frank O'Doul hit his 12th. This pair knocked in six of the Giant runs against Lon Warneke, the Cubs' ace right hander, and two successors.

SHIELDS WINS CASINO FINALS

Rangy New Yorker Tops Great Tennis Field at Newport

BY BILL KING
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Newport, R. I., Aug. 19 (AP)—Rangy Frank Shields, who has been flirting with tennis greatness for several seasons, today wound up one of the most sensational preliminary campaigns in many seasons by overcoming weather conditions that all but ruined his usual game and defeating Wilmer Allison, U. S. Davis cup singles player, 1-6, 11-9, 6-1, 6-3, in the final match of the high class Newport Casino tournament.

The six foot New Yorker, fifth in the national rankings, comes down to the national singles championship with a clean record. Since he returned from his unsuccessful European campaign he has won five major grass fixtures, during which he has gained decisive triumphs over Ellsworth Vines, the national champion who bowed in straight sets yesterday; Frankie Parker, the 17-year-old Milwaukee wizard and Gregory Mangin, a hard opponent to down in the New York-New Jersey tennis wars, where Shields beat him twice.

Vines, winner of the past two Newport tourneys, salvaged some of his Casino prestige when he and Keith Gledhill, with whom he shares the national doubles title, managed to outwear George Lott, who helped give the United States its only Davis cup point, and Lanky Lester Stoefen of Los Angeles, for a 6-2, 8-6, 17-19, 6-3 win in the three-hours doubles final. It was the victors third straight success in that competition.

The court was soaked from a night of rain and a heavy fog was sweeping in from the harbor when Shields and Allison started play.

Allison had the first set and a 4-1 lead in the second when Shields, after much experimenting, hit upon an assortment of strokes that would obey him on soggy court.

'STIQUE LEGION FORMING TEAM

Semi-Professional Grid Squad Starts Practice Today

Manistique, Mich., Aug. 19—Preliminary steps in the organization of a Manistique semi-professional football team were taken Friday evening at a meeting held at the Legion Memorial cottage when temporary officers were elected, finances discussed, and other arrangements made in order to provide the city with a grid team of high calibre. The meeting was attended by approximately 25 persons.

Norman Jahn, former high school grid star, was elected president of the newly founded organization; William Cook, vice president; and Maurice Reid, secretary and treasurer.

No name was selected for the association pending sponsorship of the venture by the local post of the American Legion. A committee composed of William Cook, Nels Halsey, and Albert Ackerman was appointed to present the proposition to the Legion at its regular meeting Thursday evening in an attempt to secure financial backing. It is probable that another election of officers will be held should the Legion decide to back local semi-pro football. The next meeting will be held on Friday to perfect organization plans.

Inquiry into accident insurance rates and whether upper peninsula semi-pro teams, such as at Escanaba, Munising, Newberry, Sault Ste. Marie, etc., will play under intercollegiate or professional rules, will be made by Dick Mueller who was appointed in that capacity by President Jahn. He will also make inquiry as to whether a constitution is necessary.

First practice for the gridders will commence at 9:30 o'clock this mornin gat the fairgrounds. William Cook, former football coach of the local high school, was given the appointment of temporary coach until later in the season when a permanent appointment will be made.

Practice sessions will be held on Sunday morning, and Wednesday and Friday evenings at 6 o'clock until the close of the local diamond ball season on September 7, after which regular daily practices will commence.

A list of players, all of whom are ex-college and former high school players, was made Friday evening which included the following: Archie Carpenter, Bloomquist, Clarence Peterson, Buck Jones, Nels Halsey, R. Brunet, Walter Dumond, Jay Barnes, Jacob Barnes, Norman Jahn, Bob Marks, Louis Rogers, Earl LaBrasseur, Connie Graphos, Heine Mattson, Maurice Reid, John Kasun, Carstensen, William Cook, Albert Ackerman.

All others who intend to become candidates for the team are requested to notify either Norman Jahn, William Cook or Maurice Reid. Prospects of a fine team of exceptionally high calibre is predicted on the basis of the material and the squad will be strengthened with the addition of one or two more college stars early in September when members of the public school faculty establish residence here.

UPBAY SHOOT SCORES GOOD

Marquette Men Dominate Top Places on Opening Day

Gladstone — Marquette entries dominated the first day's shooting in the Upper Peninsula Rifle and Pistol Championship matches being held on the local range, shooters from that city winning the Individual and Team Pistol Championships and the Smallbore Individual Championship. Gladstone placed second in the team pistol match and a gunner from the Delta county city took third in the small-bore rifle match. The small-bore team match, scheduled to be shot yesterday afternoon, was put off until a future date because of insufficient time to conduct the event.

William Irish, of the Marquette Constabulary of State Police, won the individual pistol championship with a score of 256 out of a possible 300; a Marquette quartet won the pistol team match, and V. Micklow of Marquette took the smallbore championship with a score of 394 out of a possible 400.

In the individual pistol match V. Micklow was second, placing one point behind Irish and A. Jeanson of Marquette was third with 249. Gunners from the Superior shore city also took the next three places. Forest White scored 234 to place seventh and was high among the Gladstone men in the event. Earl Riley and Alfred May of Gladstone, placed ninth and tenth with scores of 222 and 218, respectively. Eighteen competed in the event.

Composing the team which took the team pistol championship were W. Irish, V. Micklow, A. Jeanson and Doc Micklow and they turned in an aggregate mark of 968 out of a possible 1200. Gladstone's No. 1 team, composed of Forest White, Earl Riley, Alfred May and H. B. Willis, took second money with 849. Another team from Marquette on which H. Ulrich, J. Johnson, J. Luoma and S. B. Miller shot, was third with 816 and a second Gladstone quartet, T. Kallerson, P. Bruce, E. Larson and W. A. Swenson, was fourth with 809.

Scoring a 394 in the small-bore event, but placing second because his bullseyes were not as well centered as Micklow's, came A. Carlson of Marquette and Earl Louis of Gladstone was third with 387. Others in the first ten and their scores were: J. Luoma, Marquette, 386; H. Holmberg, Gladstone, 385; T. Kallerson, Gladstone, 384; H. Ulrich, 382; V. Watt, Marquette, 379; E. Vanderberg, Gladstone, 376, and E. Riley, Gladstone, 376.

SHOWS HOW IT'S DONE

Claude E. Parmelee, expert rifle and trap shot, yesterday put on several nifty demonstrations of shooting with various types of firearms and will be on hand again today. Parmelee also gave those who viewed the exhibition some valuable advice on how to improve one's shooting ability. He has previously won the professional trapshooting championship of Michigan, and is affiliated with the Winchester company in shooting promotional work.

Final Matches Today

The two-day program of shooting will wind up today with the Individual Rifle Championship and the Rifle Team Championship, the latter for the Stearns trophy. Regular .30 calibre service rifles will be used.

The individual match will begin at 8 o'clock this morning and the course of fire will be 10 shots at 200 yards, standing; 10 shots at 200 yards, rapid fire; 10 shots at 300 yards, prone, and 10 shots at 300 yards, rapid fire. Negaunee sharpshooters are expected to shoot in this event.

Competition for the team championship will begin at one o'clock in the afternoon. The course of fire will be 10 shots at 200 yards, standing; 10 shots at 200 yards, rapid fire; 10 shots at 300 yards, rapid fire, and 10 shots for record at 600 yards, slow fire. "A" targets will be used for all but the 600 yard distance when the "B" target will be substituted.

Prizes, donated by merchants of Gladstone, Marquette and Escanaba, were awarded in the individual pistol and small bore match and it was stated yesterday that, besides the purses, there will be merchandise awards for the winners in the individual rifle event today.

TIRED FEELING OFTEN WARNING

Infection of Disease Is Sometimes Behind Unusual Fatigue

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

"That tired feeling," so often described in the advertisements of panaceas, is likely to be particularly apparent among us in late summer after we return from our vacations.

Many a man remarks that he is all worn out from his period of rest simply because modern customs make vacations full of golf, tennis, swimming, and not infrequently dancing into the small hours of the night.

Fatigue is a common symptom associated with general infections and with most disease. Sometimes people are tired because of improper working conditions or bad habits of hygiene generally, but a tired feeling is not a healthful feeling.

Dr. D. A. Laird has listed some of the most common sensations associated with being fatigued. Among them are a tendency to yawn, a feeling of effort on movement, drowsiness, profuse sweating without previus exertion, a tendency to close the eyes, to misplace commonly used artciles, difficulty in remembering what has just been said, and an effort to avoid talking more than is usual.

In addition there are likely to be itching of the skin, irritation from slight annoyances, distraction from work, absent mindedness, blueness ,and a hesitancy to get up and move about.

All of these symptoms come promptly when one suffers from sleep starvation as well as from extreme and long-continued physical exertion.

Because fatigue may be associated with infection and disease as well as with bad hygiene, it should always be considered seriously. Long-continued fatigue leads to illness. There is, of course, one certain way of alleviating fatigue, and that is rest.

If the fatigue is the result of work, or of some unusual form of play, certain groups of muscles will be more tired than others and, at the same time, will probably develop soreness. Mild massage of these muscles, associated with rest, tends to alleviate the soreness and bring about recovery.

In cases of malnutrition, fatigue is likely to occur much more promptly than among those who are well nourished. Muscles use sugar in their work. Hence, malnutrition deprives the muscles of the substance necessary for work and fatigue results promptly.

Therefore, the diet of anyone who is unusually tired must be carefully studied. However, it is not safe to treat fatigue by overeating. When a person is tired he should consider rest the first factor in treatment.

Pupils Register At High School

Any pupils who have registered but who wish to make changes in their schedules, are also asked to report at the office to arrange the new schedule this week.

The 1903 University of Iowa football team holds the school record for victories in one season, it turning in nine wins and two losses.

George Truckey, Garden, Retires From Business

Garden, Aug. 19 (Special)—George J. Truckey, one of the Garden Peninsula's most faithful and highly respected public servants, has announced his retirement from active business as a licensed embalmer and undertaker, a position he has occupied for nearly a quarter of a century.

Mr. Truckey was born in Preble Township, Brown County, Wis., within five miles of Green Bay, on April 3, 1854. At an early age he served his apprenticeship as a wagon maker at Bay Settlement. Anxious to widen his field of labor he went to Green Bay where he served another apprenticeship as a carriage maker. Soon after completing this term he decided to try his skill and fortune in a pioneer country and heard attractive stories of what the Garden Peninsula had to offer. Accordingly, he boarded the steamer "Union," landing at the Potvin dock at Kate's Bay, June 23, 1878. At the time, the only available dock at Garden, the Deloria dock, was piled up with lumber to such an extent that it was impossible to land here.

Built Large Barn

One of the first real jobs that he had after landing here was to build a large barn for Thomas J. Streeter of Kate's Bay. It was about this time that he met Miss Philomene Cusson who subsequently became Mrs. Truckey. These were days of growth and expansion for the sturdy pioneers of the early days and after various parts of the dense virgin forest were cleared, homes and barns were built. At this work of building, Mr. Truckey was employed almost continuously. People died, in those early days, too. There was no resident licensed undertaker and in times of need, there was no ready communication with nearby cities. Furthermore, the cost of sending such great distances for an undertaker was prohibitive. Accordingly it developed into an established custom for friendly neighbors to take care of the bodies of the dead, preparing them for burial. The local carpenter was called into service and with such crude materials as he had at hand, would fashion out the coffin into which the dead was placed, with an entire lack of anything approaching ceremony, nevertheless with a spirit of tenderness and real sympathy. Funerals were simple affairs, the nearby neighbors and friends taking care of the details of the occasion and relieving the bereaved family of every possible burden. Mr. Truckey has made many a coffin, asisted at many a funeral and made a little lighter the burdens of many grief stricken friends. This he has been doing for about half a century. At various times, there were one or two other carpenters who shared this responsibility with Mr. Truckey.

As the years passed, the community developed and its residents began to feel the need of a resident licensed embalmer and undertaker. For a few years prior to Mr. Truckey's initiation into this professional career, a licensed undertaker had been operating in the village but his practice was only very limited and the former saw where he could enlarge his own sphere of service by entering on a professional career as a licensed embalmer and undertaker. He was then fast nearing the proverbial three score years and ten, which would be considered by many as the deadline for any new enterprise but with determination and will power which has been characteristic of his whole life, he started out on the new venture.

Taught by Allo

About this time, Mr. and Mrs. John Allo of Escanaba were conducting a branch school of the Eckel College of Embalming and Sanitary Science of Philadelphia, Pa., the only branch that had at that time been established. Mr. Allo was the demonstrator of embalming while his wife was the lecturer on professional ethics. Students included men from various parts of Upper Michigan and Wisconsin. The lecturer at this school was considered as one of the best informed in the profession and won the respect and admiration of the whole student body. Of the fourteen studsnts graduating from the Escanaba school, August 7, 1915, the Garden student was by far the oldest. By his fellow students, he was familiarly and affectionately known as "Dad."

Since the year of his graduation, he has faithfully served the sorrowing families of the peninsula. One thing he has never accomplished, that is the acquirement of the "professional" attitude and bearing toward those whom he serves. It would perhaps be an unwarranted criticism to say that undertakers generally have no actual sympathy for those whom they serve but it is common knowledge that Mr. Truckey possesses the element of sympathy in an unusual degree. In the discharge of all of his professional duties he has felt deeply and eased the load of many a sad heart. Several weeks ago, Mr. Truckey sold out his equipment and the remainder of his stock in trade to Mr. Allo of Escanaba.

It is not within the purpose of this article to tell of many other activities; his interest in the general betterment of his community, his love of little children, his pleasure in planting trees in public places, watering them continually as though they were on his own property, his courage to fight alone for the right as well as his political and church interests.

He will be greatly missed and it is with sincere regret that his many friends learn that the passing years are taking their toll and compel him to make this decision but he is assured of the good wishes of a wide circle of friends who hope that he and his wife will be spared still many years to enjoy a well earned rest.
